Sink 'Em All: Submarine Warfare in the Pacific Charles Lockwood

Sink 'Em All was first published in 1951 by Vice Admiral Charles A. Lockwood, the U.S. Navy commander of the Pacific submarine fleet during World War II. Lockwood, in his leadership role, knew the skippers and crews of the submarines, and retells their wartime successes and tragedies with an intimacy and realism often missing in second-hand accounts. Lockwood also recounts his efforts to improve the provisions and after-patrol accommodations of the submariners, and of his on-going struggle to improve the effectiveness of torpedoes and other tools vital to the war effort. Sink 'Em All remains one of the most comprehensive and lively accounts of the war in the Pacific and of the exploits of the "Silent Service." This new edition includes 12 pages of illustrations and a new Preface.
